US Growth Opportunity for MGAs

US MGA premium growth is being driven by specialty and E&S expansion, demand for specialist underwriting, flexible capacity, and greater use of AI and data. For MGAs, that puts a premium on submission speed, underwriter productivity and scalable operations

The MGA opportunity

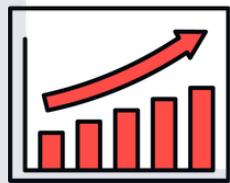

Rapid growth & AI are changing what it takes to scale

More speed

Rising submission volumes are raising the stakes: every hour spent on manual processing is an hour not spent underwriting, making speed and underwriter time more valuable than ever

More value from data

Growth across products, entities and acquisitions increases the need for trusted, connected data: without it, performance visibility gets harder just as it matters most

More clarity

As the business grows, capacity partners expect timelier reporting and clearer portfolio insight, and growth makes that more challenging to deliver

More impact from AI

As AI moves from pilot to production, the pressure is on to prove it with real operational, commercial and customer value
